Dear Ed,

As we have abandoned deforming material to non-plane surfaces (partially in reaction to the data your people have provided), can you coat on mylar? JGB points out that it can be welded, so that splices should be very little trouble. Please advise.

Also, can you provide us with the following material:

500-800 feet of perforated 35mm SO-243
300-500 feet of perforated 35mm SO-221
